Dunnam #2 Family History

Copied from material loaned by B.A. Dunnam, Richton, MS. FROM a letter, 29 April 1965

Mrs. Commander used questionnaires, and after thanking him for the return of a questionnaire, she continued:

No one can successfully do the sort of work I am doing without help from the members of the family and I am so very grateful for your cooperation and willingness to help. Some one gave the name of Rev. Maxie Dunnam in California; I wrote to him and he referred me to his father, Mr. M.M. Dunnam, of Richton, who, you told me, was son of Rev. Lewis Dunnam. Rev. Macie Dunnam sent the information I sent to him to his father and asked him to help me. I have also written Mr. M.M. Dunnam myself and asked for assistance. Perhaps if you and Mr. M.M. Dunnam would get together the two of you would likely be able to put "two and two together" and come up with some additional information which would be very helpful. I think all of us are anxious to "know just exactly who we are" and we are certainly obligated to get some thing into writing about our families so that our children, and their children, will have the information and not have to "dig" for it, for this is a long and expensive project. The reason that I ask different members of the same family practically the same questions is that one will perhaps remember something that the other has forgotten and will make the picture much clearer. For instance, the information you have given me has connected another Dunnam Family; as a matter of fact, two other Dunnam families. When I can get all the information it is possible to get, I plan to make a record of it for the family, much as I have done for the Commander Family. The connection would be way back, but is ~~an~~ a connection, nevertheless, and I need all the Dunnam information I can get. I have a researcher and genealogist now working in South Carolina on these families, trying to get all the information from that state.

2 May, she sent a copy of the death certificate of Ebenezer M. Dunnam, and includes this:

You will note that your uncle, Mr. James N. Dunnam, gave the information concerning his father to the authorities, and that he stated your grandfather was born Sept 29, 1829, in Alabama. You have told me that he came as a boy, with his father from the Carolinas to Mississippi. Mr. James N. Dunnam also stated that your grandfather died in Bothwell Community, Greene County, MD, on June 12, 1920, and that he was son of Ebenezer Dunnam and his wife, Elizabeth Dunnam, and that he apparently did not know where either of his grandparents were born. The death certificate does not show where your grandfather was buried. It does show that your Grandmother Dunnam was deceased at the time your Grandfather Dunnam died.

From letter 27 May 1965:

I have not, as yet, learned definitely who was the father of John Peter Dunnam. These photostat copies of the John Peter Dunnam Bible, and other facts, now prove that you and the other descendants of Elizabeth (McCants) Dunnam are descendants of Samuel Commander of Prince George Parish, Craven County, S.C. through Elizabeth (McCants) Dunnam and daughter of Samuel Commander.

.....When I ask you something twice, or three times, please bear with me. I do that because I want to be absolutely sure I understand everything you tell me. I am sure you can realize the importance of this.

Mr. B.A. Dunnam had attached a piece of lined paper with these names (faintly at the top Erastus W. Dunnam)
Jimmie W. Dunnam, 1403 14th S.E., Winter Haven, Fla.
Barbara Landers, 309 California Ave., Leland, MS
William M. Dunnam
James T. Dunnam, 504 Alachua St. Fernandina Beach, Fla.
June D Everett, 519 N Oak Cliff Blvd. Dallas, Tx
Joan Dunnam, Dallas, Tx.

Note: Of the above, I thought that Jimmie W. Dunnam, Winter Haven, was Mr. B.A. Dunnam's son, but it may be that Wm and James T were his sons.
June Everett and Joan Dunnam are the daughters of Eva and James McGilvry Dunnam, he was the son of James N Dunnam.
Mrs. Commander stopped answering mail almost 10 years ago; we heard that she was in poor health. Some of this we would never have seen if she had not worked on it, and I would take her word as true. D.D.

Dear Mrs. Strickland:

Thank you for the fascinating letter, which I received 14 August, as some our mail was mis-directed, hence the delay. I do appreciate your excellent work on the court records about Jennie Strickland--with that and the lists of Jennie Strickland's children, and Ebenezer Dunnam's children, a total of twenty people, not the same people, I think there is no doubt that Jennie Hale Strickland is the Jennie who married Ebenezer Dunnam. Since the first name we had for Eb's wife was Elizabeth, it has occurred to me that she might have been Jennie Elizabeth, or Elizabeth Jane.

Since she was not in Robert C Dunnam's Bible, as Eb was, I thought she was already dead at the time of his marriage 1837. Robert did have daughters named Jane and Elizabeth. We do not know anything about Elizabeth, but either could have been named for a grandmother.

I am sending you what I have about Robert C Dunnam's family and copies of material from Mrs. Beatrice Commander. In 1970, my daughter Diana and I went to State Line, and were directed to Eva Dunnam, widow of James McGilvry Dunnam, at Old Avera. She said she did not know about the Dunnams, but felt we should talk to her husband's cousin Birley (Mr. B.A.) she thought he was near 80 years old, then. She took us to see him, he lived near Richton with wife and her twin, darling little ladies. He loaned me what he had, and I got some from Sam E Dunnam, too, he worked with Mary Ann Havens, and Mrs. John Perrin, who died about four years ago. Birley Dunnam was a descendant of Ebenezer McCants Dunnam, but from the question page, you will see why he was important to us.

Mildred T Ivy is the granddaughter of Thomas J Dunnam, one of Robert Dunnams' sons. She lives at 506 N. Jackson Ave. Quitman, MS 39355. She is a very busy lady, but if you are there, you could get some more names from her. In 1974 her Aunt Jessie Dunnam Snelgrove lived in Meridian with two daughters. About 2 years ago she and one daughter died, the other daughter went to Houston. However--there were other cousins, charming Mississippi ladies (no one can be any nicer). We meant to work up group sheets, but Mildred had so many things happen, she just really did not have the time.

I do not know who J. F. Roberts could be--you will see that here is Roberts for the third time, there must be a connection, but I have no clue.

My husband's grandfather James Wesley Dunnam, came to Texas in 1866, after being released by Union Army, in Meridian. In 1864, Branch Knott Bragg's daughter Nancy Elizabeth (called Betty) was married to M.L. Roberts. That is all we ever found out about him. By 1871, JWD was back in Meridian, and married Betty Bragg Roberts, a widow. Where they were in 1870, we don't know.

Dunnam #2 Family History

The third one, of course, is in the record of Mrs. M.L. Dunnam's suit in Meridian.

I have not included a group sheet on JWD, as none of them stayed in Mississippi, I thought it would not help.

When we talked to Mr. Birley D., he knew JWD as Jim, and when I asked about Betty Bragg or Roberts, he nodded, he knew who I meant, but never knew them. I would think he did know of some Roberts, tho.

On the 26 answers--We never found out who (#24) the one in Picaune was. #21--He told us Robert was the "First child of his parents", but I suppose he meant the same. He also told us, as he had Mrs. Commander, that three brothers came from South Carolina: Eb, Nat, and Bill. I never worked that out. Eb McCants Dunnam was almost certainly born in Alabama. Nat was Nathaniel Bill was William, who lived at Dunnam's Bluff. And the first Ebenezer was an herbalist. (One account of Eb's father, John Peter Dunnam, described him as a physician).

I have copied some material from Mrs. Commander's letter, I hope she would not mind, as I think it helps give some background, not to mention scope!, and I believe some of it might be helpful, since you are near the places.

I am sending some the material that I send to you, to Mr. Mills, but not all of it. I fear he will be disappointed, but maybe we will still find the answer to some of these puzzles.

If it appears that I have omitted something that would be helpful, please do let me know, any bit of information I have, I am glad to share.

I asked Mr. Mills, but I thought it would not hurt to ask you, too--do you know if the 1845 Mississippi State Census has been published in some periodical? At the Ft Worth Public Library, I was told that it is not available in Texas, unless it is in some publication. Besides working on my husband's family, I am trying to help some cousins trace my father's people, Fitzgerald, also from Mississippi, and just about as complex as the Dunnam families.

Best Wishes, and I will look forward to hearing from you again.
Sincerely

Dorothy J. Dunnam

Dear Jean

The Dunhams in S. C. are such a mixed-up bunch that I hardly know where to start, but I shall try. I have been in contact with others researching our Dunhams, and so far as I know this is all that has been put together about them.

We know of two Dunham families which appear in the early 1700's. We have found nothing on their previous history.

John Dunham.

From Sally & Olsbert, Warrants for Lands in South Carolina, 1672-1711, he had a warrant for 400 acres of land in Berkley Co. 11/1/1708, and another, amount not stated, 9/1/1709.

He died 28 April 1725, leaving a will recorded 7 March 1727, mentioning the following:

Wife: Hannah

Children: John (b. 5/26/1714)
Hannah (b. 6/7/1717)
Sarah (b. 1/29/1720-21)
Ebenezer

Births furnished by Ruth White,
Mathews, Va., from St. Thomas &
St. Denis Parish Records.

In Colonial Records of S. C., Journal of Common House of Assembly, 1742-1744, John is referred to as a Constable at Georgetown Winyaw. I assume this John is the one.

Jacob Donom (This information comes from an abstract of his will. I believe he would be the same generation as the above John)

Colleton County, planter. Will signed Jan. 25, 1745/6; proved Feb. 11, 1745. No wife is mentioned.

Daughter: Sarah Donam, under 21
Sons: Jacob Donam, under 21
Daniel Donam
Jonathan Donam
James Donam
William Donam
John Donam

Executors

My line goes back to Robert Dunham in S. C. who doesn't seem to be connected directly with either family. According to a Davis family history--and I don't know where the researcher got his information on the Dunhams--Robert and his brother Ebenezer were born in Massachusetts, came with their parents to Georgia about 1735 and to Dorchester, S. C. in 1744. They later moved to the Georgetown District which is the same area as John lived in. There are things that don't quite hang together about Davis's information. But these two don't seem to go with anybody, and I haven't identified Ebenezer at all. Robert married Susan Burn (Bourne) in Dorchester in 1746. They had the following children:

Elizabeth b. 1749 m. Johah Woodberry
Susan b. 1752 m. William Davis
Joseph b. 17??
Ann b. 1748, m. John Peter Port

Robert b. 1760 m. Mary Ann Davis
Thomas b. 1763
Hannah b. 1764 m. Benjamin Davis

Dunnam #2 Family History

My line comes down through Robert and Mary Ann, and I gave you the info. on them in my first letter.

Your line does go back to Samuel Commander, Sr. I have his will. He also had warrants for land in Berkley County.

He died 17 Sept. 1733 in Prince George Parrish, Craven County, S.C. His will, probated 29 Jan. 1735, mentions:

Wife: Elizabeth

Children: Samuel

John

Joseph

Hannah - m. Elisha Screven

Elizabeth - m. Burtenhead Boutwell

Abigail - minor - m. John Smith

Dorothy - minor

Frances - minor - m. Ebenezer Dunham

Rachel - minor - m. _____ McCants

The question is - Which Ebenezer did Frances marry? The brother of my Robert or the son of John? I have some pages from the Commander history by Beatrice Commander (I assume the one whom you mentioned as being deceased).

She lists the children of Frances Commander and Ebenezer Dunham as a. Perhaps John P. Dunham (From South Carolina Baptists: "The Georgetown Baptist Church was incorporated December 19, 1801. Among those who signed the petition for incorporation were:... John P. Dunham...his mother was Frances Commander...His father was Ebenezer Dunham."

b. Perhaps Ebenezer Dunham, Jr.

And perhaps others.

Joseph Commander, son of Samuel, died in 1772. His will mentions no wife or children, but leaves property to neices and nephew, including Elizabeth Dunham, daughter of his sister Rachel McCants. According to the Commander history, Rachel had previously been married to a Brockington. ~~They had~~ Rachel and McCants had one known child Elizabeth who married John Peter Dunham. I did think that Eliz. married the J. P., son of Frances and Eb. They would have been cousins but that was not unusual.

I have come across the Cuttino information, however, and saw other possibilities. Your statement that the mother of J. P. is said to be the daughter of Peter Cuttino supports this idea.

I am enclosing an extra copy of some Cuttino material I have. Another researcher wrote me that she had some information from the Huguenot Asso. of S. Carolina which says "Elizabeth Cuttino possibly married a Dunham, since John Dunham was exec. on Peter Cuttino's will." His will, signed Oct. 30, 1760, left something to "my three grandsonx, viz--John Dunnam, Ebenezer Dunham and Jacob Dunnam." Her thought was that she married John, the son of the first John I listed. She might also have married John the son of Jacob Donom. I think she would be the daughter of II.B. on the attached.

I hope you can make something out of this confusion. I know there has to be a connection between all these Dunhams, and since Dunham children in my Dunhams and the Miss. Dunhams were given the same names in so many cases, there has to be a relationship. If you turn up any more pieces to the puzzle, I would appreciate your passing them on to me.

Sincerely

Maude Kulas

Dear Jean,

Thank you for your letter and all the info you sent me last month. I was delighted especially to hear about the Old Edwards Cemetery on Bogu Homa (where my father used to take me swimming). I suspected there was a family cemetery, but didn't know where. I am hoping to visit relatives in MS this summer as soon as school is out (if my teenage boys don't all have jobs) and visit the cemeteries. I wrote my aunt in Waynesboro about the info you sent and she was interested and wanted copies of everything. According to names she gave me 18 yrs. ago Ebb Dunnam had a son named Robert Cutno--perhaps he is the Robert C. that you have a lot on; I am wondering too if his name should be "Cuttino" as that is the surname of John Peter Dunnam's mother and grandfather.

At the LDS Library in Dayton, I found that Ebenezer Dunnam's name was Jincey Strickland. Could "Jincey" be the same as your Elizabeth Jane? My aunt had his wife's name as possibly "Nancy". It's interesting that one of his grandsons married a Jincey (Prentiss) too.

Have you ever corresponded with Irma McLain on the Dunnam's? I got her name and address from the LDS Library as having submitted Dunnam records to Salt Lake City, but when I wrote her, my letter was returned, so I don't know she has died or perhaps just moved. I'm trying to find her.

I Didn't have the names of Martha McLain's parents, so thanks for that too.

I really appreciate all you sent me.

One thing you may or may not have--I noticed that you only have one wife for William Lawrence Dunnam (son of N. Alexander). He was my ~~father's~~ mother's father and is buried in Sunset Cemetery in Richton (as are my mom, dad and grandmother and others). His first wife was Maggie Cochran and she was the mother of his first five children--four of which are still living and one is my Aunt Rowena in Waynesboro. If you'd like any names and dates let me know. Maggie died and he married 2nd Lizzie Brewer. It's thought that she died in childbirth and he then married my grandmother Nettie Leona Edwards when she was just fourteen years ago; his oldest daughter was either thirteen or fifteen. His children with Nettie were my mother and her two sisters--the youngest born after his death. My mother was six years old when he was killed in a moonshine raid. My grandmother later married again to Bruce Jeffcoats and had three sons. So my mom by being in the "middle bunch" had lots of siblings. My Aunt R. likes to say tho she isn't related at all to the "younger brothers" she feels like they are her little brothers too. One of them died a yr. or two ago. Bruce died only a few years ago too I may be giving you more than you want of my family so if you want names and dates do let me know. One more thing, WL Dunnam's first two wives are buried next to him, but my grandmother is across the cem.

Thanks again.

Sincerely,

Ruth
